

Last year, Southwest College celebrated the opening of the new Student Services Center. The 62,000 square foot building helps the College better serve the LASC student population by centralizing student services under one roof.

TOP: Supervisor Yvonne Burke (center) helps celebrate dedication of new Student Services Center

CENTER: Inside the new Student Services Center

BOTTOM: Framing of new Child Development Center, now under construction

SOUTHWEST COLLEGE

Southwest College is located in southwestern Los Angeles County, near the intersection of Western and Imperial Boulevards. This past November, the College held a dedication ceremony to celebrate the opening of its new 62,000 square foot Student Services Center. In addition, the new Child Development Center is more than halfway to completion, and a new 222-space student parking lot is under construction.

COMING OVER THE NEXT YEAR

Child Development Center completion

Landscaping improvements on northeast quadrant of campus underway

Technology Education Center modernization under construction

Cox Building modernization under way

Lecture Laboratory Building modernization under construction

Maintenance and Operations facility under construction

Physical Education improvements

